SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1851.

A Suggestion to Young Men.

The reliance of too many of the young men is to be feared, is upon what is done for them rather than that true and noble self-reliance upon what, by the assistance of Divine Providence, they may do for themselves. They would doubtless think it very strange to see a noble ship of fine form and sound frame, with anchors and chains and abundance of ground tackling, well rigged and all sails bent and furled, and having complete, in herself, every element and article for successful progress and security, and thus thoroughly equipped and finished, hitching on to this vessel and that in the harbors to prevent her being swept on shore or away with the current, instead of relying upon her own anchors and cables; or that instead of loosening her own broad canvass to make her voyages on the sea of duty and directing her own independent course, she should send out her warp to this vessel and that, wherever she could find a chance to be towed, even by craft of meaner capacity. Strange and ruinous as such a course would be for a noble ship, yet it not unjustly, we think, illustrates the course of those who, instead of exercising their heaven-bestowed faculties, thoroughly furnished as they are for making progress, lazily wait for what shall be done for them.

Every person, every young person certainly should understand that all true progress, all genuine growth, is from within and not from without. Like the full rigged ship, they may appropriate and should rightfully improve the favoring winds and employ every outward advantage, how spreading their sails wide to catch the faint breeze, but whether in calm or in storm, keeping directly on their course, with an active use of every means which they possess.

All true growth is from within. This is a law of their being, wisely established by its author. The life is but an out-growth of the interiors. There may be hypocrisy and deceit and reputation may be far above the real character, unduly inflating those who are engrossed in and led by the outward, or reputation may be far below the true deserts of character, and depress and discourage those who measure themselves by what others think and say of them—but the true character must be formed within and manifest itself outward, like the successive shooting of the branches and twigs of a thrifty tree. This is the idea of life and duty which should dwell in and influence the minds of young men. Every thought and sentiment and act and word sends forth its bud and leaf and twig, and becomes a part of the real character of the man. Thus and thus make up the man. Next to the sustaining power of Jehovah, reliance must be placed on self. This is the seat of growth. From within must come the form and strength and power of the tree, and so too of the man.

With this idea fully impressed upon the minds of our young men, their ears would not be laid to the earth to catch the faintest breath of the opinion of others regarding them, and perhaps of those incapable of judging correctly or without any real influence upon the mind of the community. They would resist, instead of being seduced by temptation. They would set their own powers of head and hand and heart in motion for their true advancement, rather than listlessly hang upon others or drone in the rust of inactivity or decompose in the corruptions of the times.

It will be well for our young men to remember that true self-poised character is invincible and can outlive and control and mould all mere reputation. With God and humanity for an aim of love, and the acceptance of duties as every hand, the path of life may be plain and success certain.

☞ No Smoking about the Premises.—In a late trial before the Supreme Court in session in Boston, brought by John Perley against the People's Insurance Co., to recover a policy of $1,000 on plaintiff's stock and tools in his cabinet maker's shop, a witness testified that the plaintiff and all the persons employed in the shop, were daily accustomed to smoke pipes and cigars upon the premises, and as a clause of the policy prohibited the use of lighted cigars or pipes in or about the premises, the presiding Judge was of opinion that plaintiff was not entitled to recover, inasmuch as these acts were done not only by his agents, but he allowed others to do so also, with a full knowledge of his responsibility and the risks thus incurred, as appeared from conversations with said witness. Verdict for the defendant subject to the decision of a full bench.

☞ The Rockland Gazette states that movements in that city indicate that the next season will be a busy one in the building line. Preparations are being made for the erection of a large number of buildings, of different classes, and with the construction of the contemplated Water Works, increased activity to all the business interests, the coming season, may be counted upon. The ship building interests are also destined to keep pace with other industrial branches. Dea. Geo. Thomas has in contemplation the construction of a splendid ship of 1900 tons, and Master Rhodes another of 1300 tons, to say nothing of the numerous "smaller crafts" that will, of course be "turned out."

☞ The New York Courier is urging Congress to do something in regard to the Tariff, and declares that almost every candid man in the country has long since become satisfied that our present Tariff, is most injurious to all our great interests. Every American reporter, and three-fourths of all our shipping merchants, are of the same opinion—and yet the representatives of the people exhibit a stolid indifference to the wants of the country at large, which is scarcely conceivable."

☞ The Mercury of last evening states that the Mayor has received a despatch from Washington stating that the Market Foundation has been decided upon as the site of the proposed Custom House in this city. We do not learn from this what sum the city is to realize for the property, nor any of the many matters of interest connected with it, but we shall endeavor to enlighten our readers of all the conditions as soon as we can get hold of the items in the case.

☞ Two felons lawyers have been convicted in New York of conspiring to extort money, and have been sentenced. One of them named Nile, to the State prison for two years and six months and pay a fine of $2,000—to remain in prison until the fine is paid. The other named Roberts, was sentenced to the city prison for thirty days and pay a fine of $250.

☞ The editor of the Skowhegan Clarion is arguing the point of the unconstitutionality of the Fugitive Slave Law in an unique style. His labors are not so instructive as amusing. We shall be very glad to have him make out a case which will satisfy the Judges of the U. S. Supreme Court, before whom the question will be brought.

☞ We understand that the members of the Mechanics Association protest meeting Dr. Jackson in a social friendly way at their Hall, this evening before his departure from the city, where he has been tarrying for several weeks while delivering his lectures before the Association. The meeting will be informal, and free, and all are invited to be present.

☞ Another Fire.—We learn by a letter from the editor of the Norfolk Herald, from a correspondent on board the U. S. ship St. Mary's, dated Funchal, Madeira, November 11th, says:

It will be recollected that the ship was the first of all sail from the United States under the new act abolishing the system or practice of flogging in the navy of vessels. This officer crew has shown that seamen are capable of being better governed by kindness than by the degrading severity of the old law, as no punishments have been reported to Capt. McCluney, since the ship has been in commission.

☞ The Grecians at Athens are said to have contributed $200 in aid of the Washington National Monument. During the discussion of this matter it was stated by the members that the Natives had never shed the blood of white men in war, and that they reverenced the memory of Washington as much as their own brothers.

☞ We are requested to state that the repairs upon the Universalist Church in this city, are completed, and that services will be held there at 10 o'clock, A. M. and 7 P. M. to-morrow, (Sunday.) when it is expected that Rev. Mr. Battles will deliver a discourse introductory to his labors with that society.

☞ Jenny Lind and suite arrived at Havana on the 5th inst. Her first concert was to take place on the 10th. The prices of admission were for a box to the first or second tiers $12, do in the third, $10, a seat in the pit, $4.50, promenade tickets to the parquet, $2, amphitheatre, $2, upper gallery, $1.50.

☞ Little Gil, of Boston, the principal witness at the Webster trial, has a map, drawn by Dr. Webster, while in jail awaiting his trial, of the streets in which Mrs. Rhodes and others thought they had seen Dr. Parkman after his murder. The points in each is marked, and a table is annexed.

☞ The Lime Rock, Gazette urges the establishment of a breakwater for the protection of the great number of vessels employed in the business of that region.

☞ Since 1820, there have been 503 patents granted to citizens of Maine—previous to 1820, but 13. Greatest number for any 10 years was 300, granted from 1830 to 1840.

Nothing will make an orchard so quick, and we may say, so cheap as setting out healthy young trees with an abundance of roots, and cultivating them thoroughly.

☞ The Kennebec Journal states that Mr Sam'l B. Pierce, of Augusta, came to his death suddenly while hauling wood. He was found dead under the runner of his sled.

☞ Miss Emma Dudley, of Kingfield, was greatly injured a few days since, in being run over by a young man coasting down one of the hills in Augusta.

☞ The 50th anniversary of the First Parish Sabbath School will be held at their church, to-morrow evening. Address by Rev. S. L. Caldwell. Exercises to commence at 7 o'clock.

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE ADAMS HOUSE.—Mr. Chamberlain, the host of the Adams House, whose guest Gov. Briggs has been for two or three years, when in the city, gave a splendid entertainment the last night in honor of his distinguished guest; who has now become a private citizen. A great many gentlemen and ladies were present, among whom were Governor Boutwell, Lieut. Governor Cushman, members of the Legislature, and the High officers of the State. Mrs. Cushing, wife of Jude Cushing of the Police Court, on behalf of the lady boarders of the Adams House, presented Gov. Briggs with a handsome gold headed cane. Mrs. Cushing made a very handsome speech.

Hon. Wm. B. Calhoun, late Secretary, of State, on behalf of the gentleman boarders of the Adams House, presented Gov. Briggs with a beautiful Silver Pitcher and Salver. Mr. Calhoun's speech was very appropriate and touching. The reply of Gov. Briggs is allowed on all hands to have been in his happiest vein; after which the company retired to the dining room, where a most splendid supper was provided, which was partaken of by all present. About 11 o'clock the company began to separate. We learn Gov. Briggs will go to-day to Lawrence, and deliver a lecture in the evening. To-morrow night he leaves for his home in Berkshire, stopping at Natick, where he lectures in the evening. The best wishes and the heartfelt blessings of our whole people attend him.—[Boston Atlas, 16th.

CALIFORNIA HENS.—The Rev. Walter Colton, the late Alcalde of Monterey, finding it difficult to procure eggs, when required, either for love or money, took the hen fever in the natural way; and that our friends of the New England Society may know what kinds of birds they have in California, and their habits, we give Mr. Colton's own description of them:

"I purchased six hens of an Indian woman for six dollars, and a rooster, for fifty cents. On asking the woman why she charged only half price for the rooster, she replied that the fellow laid no eggs, and as for his crowing, did nobody any good. So after reckoning this in these could not be furnished in a much higher place than a hen-coop. The habits of these hens are a little singular. They are perfectly tame, and are as much at home in the kitchen as the cook. They never trouble themselves much about a nest, but deposit their eggs where they find it most convenient; one takes the tea tray, and another the ironing table, a third the oven, and there is one that always gets into the wash-tub. This is not at all disturbed by the tossing of the little fellow on whom pro tempore she is intruding. Without the use any of her feathered sisters could, when they leave their nest. They don't seem to think that anything worth stealing, or an idea about his owner, is near. The rooster, it is true, picks up a living, and, perhaps feeds a feather taller. But this is the vanity of his sex. These are a [illegible] crow over what others have done."

MURDER AND LOSS OF LIFE ON BOARD THE ENGLISH SHIP 'KELSO.' The annexed statement has been received by the owners of the vessel, from the master, Capt. John Innes, furnishing accurate and interesting details regarding this shocking and fatal affray—

HONG KONG, Sept. 23, 1850.

We arrived here upon the 14th inst., having made one of the shortest passages that has yet been effected between California and this place. On the evening of the 17th of August, I found the night fine. I shipped at San Francisco somebody into the wood stowed upon them had been removed and one of the decks spoiled. Next day being Sunday, I had the hatches well secured which had previously been kept off, in order to ventilate the ship, and, while I was superintending this duty, I heard repeated threats of vengeance made by some one of the crew, which I had some suspicion was intended against myself; but thinking it idle boasting and provoked, I paid no attention to it at the time, but about half-past seven the same evening, two of the crew informed me that some of the men first entered into a solemn agreement to murder me and the steward that night, and half-past ten o'clock was the hour agreed, when they expected we should be asleep in our berths. They determined also to seize the person of the carpenter and mates, depose of them somehow or other, and then run the ship to the Columbia river, on the North-west of America, where they would sell her. It appears they expected to find a large amount of money on board, which when we carefully to share and disperse. One of the mutineers stated that he had at one time been master of an American whaling ship, and it was resolved that he was to navigate the ship after I was murdered. The two men guilty of the murder have been reported to Captain McCluney, since the ship has been in commission.

BY THE LAST MAIL.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE FRANKLIN.

ELEVEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Franklin, which left Havre on the 1st of January, arrived at New York on Thursday evening, bringing dates eleven days later than those brought by the Niagara.

It appears that the Atlantic left Liverpool for N. Y. upon her day of sailing, Dec. 28th, 4 days before the Franklin left Havre.

The Franklin sailed from Havre Jan. 1, with 40 passengers. The Asia went out in 10 days.

Stocks rather depressed in consequence of the highness of the money market.

Accounts from Paris to 1st inst.—Some excitement had been created by the disagreement between the Government and the Assembly. In consequence, the French funds had declined.

Belgium had officially announced the discontinuance of gold coinage to the extent of about 14,000,000 francs.

The other continental news is of little importance. The elector of Hesse Cassel had returned to his capital on Dec. 27th, preceded by a body of Hessian troops. Not a single cheer was given for him by the troops.

Some collision had taken place between the Prussian and Hanverian troops.

The Overland India mail reached London (arrived) 1st. Money market at Bombay was tighter.—Business at Calcutta active. The rebellion in China was productive of no serious results.

The ship Huntingdon Gowan, was still missing and supposed to have been destroyed by pirates who were re-appearing in considerable force at certain points.

The Franklin, on the opposition line to the Atlantic would have arrived first, although sailing [illegible] days after the Niagara; brings but few passengers and [illegible] freight.

[From the London Times, Jan. 2.]

The Artic was late when she ran ashore on the 1st at 2 P. M., but owing to low tide did not reached Liverpool till evening.

The President of France and the Bureau of the National Assembly have accepted M. [illegible] resignation as commissioner of the Assembly. The President and members of the Assembly were on Tuesday received at the Elysee.

Consols closed in London on 1st inst. at 96¾ to ¾. The foreign stock market was quiet, and prices, with the exception of Mexican, which was rather flat, showed no material alteration.

Afternoon.—It was learned this afternoon by Baring & Brothers, announcing that they have admitted Russell Sturgis, of Boston, Mass., formerly of Canton, as a partner.

The commercial accounts from Dublin were regarded as very satisfactory. Both the import and export markets at Bombay and Calcutta, showing increased activity at better prices.

Renewed vigor and activity is manifested in Manchester markets and a general advance in prices has taken place. The stock of cotton was larger than it had been for some time past. Prices more on a par with the value of cotton. There was great firmness in cotton and a large business has been done although the holidays had checked operations for a day, or two. The Liverpool stock was 454,870 bales, according to Manchester accounts.

Corn Exchange, London, Jan. 1.—The fresh supply of English wheat this morning was very small. Foreign arrivals are rather large and the weather continues exceeding mild and dark, and the condition of the samples of wheat is affected thereby. Trade was very dull. Little or no change in any description of wheat. Prices unchanged. Barley in limited demand. Oats favored buyers.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.

In the Senate several petitions were presented for the repeal of the Fugitive Slave Law; for modification of the Tariff; for alterations of Patent Laws &c., which were laid upon the table.

Mr Pearce introduced a joint resolution, concerning the distribution of the reports of the Exploring Expedition, which was referred to Committee.

Mr Shields offered a resolution calling on the President to furnish all information touching the British difficulties at San Salvador, etc., etc.—and such other matter connected with it as affects the interest of the United States and the independence of Central America. After some remarks by Messrs John Davis, Clay, Case and Douglass, the resolution was adopted.

Mr Benton offered a resolution calling for the correspondence as to the Contoy prisoners—laid over. After some miscellaneous proceedings, the French Spoliation Bill was taken up.

Mr Smith addressed the Senate fully on the long delay in the settlement of this subject, and reviewed the different attempts made to settle it. He stated the nature of the various claims in detail, and without concluding yielded for adjournment.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union on the Postage Bill. The second section was amended to read that on every description of printed matter of no greater weight than two ounces, one cent shall be paid. Bound books not weighing over 30 ounces are to be deemed mailable matter. Provided newspapers are delivered in the State where they are printed, shall be chargeable with one-half the foregoing rates. No postage to be charged on newspapers printed or delivered in the county where published or circulating within 30 miles of the place where printed; and it is also provided that 50 cents shall be deducted from the postage on magazines paid in advance. Agreed to.

Mr. Potter moved to strike out the third section and insert a provision authorizing the agent to sell three cent pieces—three-tenths silver, two-fourth copper, &c.

Mr. Underwood offered an amendment that no newspaper advocating resistance to the laws of the land, shall pass through the mails except for double postage. [Laughter.] Ruled out of order.

Mr. Dixon offered an amendment providing for a 2½ cent coin, and similar postage. Rejected.

Mr. Pedro's coin amendment was then adopted.

The fourth section attached so as to make it the duty of Postmasters General to furnish deputies with 3 cent stamps without discount on $50 purchases.

Mr. [illegible] offered an amendment providing that envelopes [illegible] stamped.

Mr. Crowe moved to attach the Homestead Bill. Rejected.

The [illegible] Mr Atherton agreed to [illegible] foreign steam,—fixed and improved.

The last section was then taken up, appropriating [illegible] deficiency. Mr Clarke moved to strike out the appropriation for Revenue Cutters, &c.

Various amendments were offered and rejected. One by Mr Lawrence to charge 6 cents on the rate of letters, and 3 cents on printed matter, when not prepaid.

An amendment offered by Mr. Hunter was adopted, as also the engrossment of the bill and it was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Phelps offered a substitute for the entire bill; pending the consideration of which the committee rose and the House adjourned.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE

is issued every morning except Sunday on a large sheet of fine white paper, forming eight pages of six columns each, or about the size of two average Country Newspapers. About six of these pages are new every morning; the aggregate of Editorials, News and Miscellanies, being greater than will be found in any paper in America, and greater than will be found in two in Europe, though its price is but six cents. Two Steam-Presses are employed in the establishment, and a Double Edition can be issued to supply every subscriber with the Latest News up to 3 o'clock, at which hour the Edition for mailing is printed.

The Tribune is edited in chief by Horace Greeley, who has special charge of all matters pertaining to the Politics and Legislation of our own Country.—Its Foreign, Commercial and Financial Department is in charge of Charles A. Dana, assisted by able correspondents in London, Paris, Constantinople, &c., &c. Its Californian Intelligence and its City Department are in charge of Bayard Taylor, backed by an efficient corps of Reporters. Its Literary Notices will be found to be drawn from all quarters; by Telegraph, Expresses, steam-ships and Mails, exactness and reliable as that of any other paper. Price $5 a year, in advance; three months, $1.50.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Contains nearly all the most interesting matters of the Daily, except such sorts of local information as can be suppressed by fuller and more exact ledgers below the Peak-Weekly is issued. It is of the same size with the Daily, and has five advertisements. Price $3 a year, in advance. Couples for $5, $3 copies for $5.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The New York Tribune.—The Presidence [illegible] Morning Mirror says: We think no candid person will fail to recognize as the likeness of the leading American Journal in the following from the Boston Bee:

"At the head and front of the Journals of New York we at once, and without reserve, place the New York Tribune. This may, perhaps, be thought a strong assertion, but we sincerely think it a truthful one. The Tribune is a paper that presents many striking merits, which no one of the least discernment can fail to discover; and of which every writer, who has a pen to edge. We are well aware that it sometimes takes grounds and expresses opinions not always to be endorsed by the great public; but perhaps by that own friends—but yet its history and the times have hitherto proved, that in the end, those grounds have been opinions to be correct. It is shown that, it has the most able judgment and sagacity, and that, while its sentiments and doctrines may sometimes, for the hour, appear as unsound and visionary, they are only so because in advance and slightly above the general opinion."

"Among the chief characteristics of the Tribune are judgment, reliability, power, honesty, candor, and great common sense."

"The editorials in the Tribune are marked by great ability, strength of position, [illegible] temper and as a general fact, of a high order. They are the finished productions of men of experience, of strong common sense—and invariably are expressive of manly tone. Politically, their aim counts on, though sometimes misdirected, is correct, and, if opposed, to be respected, it is done with as much consideration and leniency as the occasion and person will admit. The political columns are characterized by the most signal ability, and truly, probably, [illegible] more weight and influence than those of the country than any other journal in America."

The New-York Tribune.—The powerful journal, which is a perfect fountain of thought and ably discussed upon all moral and political subjects, seems full of its original vigor and freshness. The Tribune is ever [illegible] the whole field in the shape of [illegible] and [illegible] Progress &c.

Mann's Writing Ink.

THERE is no mistake as to its excellencies.—The following is the testimony of the Bangor Democrat:—
"The Ink is manufactured by Dr. Wm. Mann, of Albany, N. Y. We have used it for both last eight or nine years, and can assure the public that it is an excellent article. It is a fair black, flows free from the pen, and retains its color on our account books, after the lapse of years, as fresh as when first written. The proprietor has made little, or no exertion to bring this Ink before the public, yet it is used extensively, not only in this vicinity, but in Boston and other places. He offers it cheap at the Drug Store, No. 57 West Market Square."

THE Great American Remedy

FOR Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all diseases of the Chest and Lungs, has now been so long before the public, and its reputation is so well established, both from recommendations of individuals and from the veritable testimony of itself, that no one by all who have used it, that it is safe for us to make unconditional promises. It must very unhesitatingly recommend it as an effectual remedy for the above mentioned complaints. As a family medicine, it cannot be too highly recommended. One dose will relieve the most ordinary cold, and a few doses will cure the most inveterate cough. For the information of those who have not used it, we will state that it is a combination of the best Expectorants and Tonics in the Materia Medica, and that it has been the favorite, and unrivalled remedy in all the cities and towns of the most celebrated, and valuable Preparations.

Sold wholesale and retail by R. H. HARDY, at No. 3 Harlow's Block, Bangor, and by Druggists generally throughout the country. All orders will be promptly attended to. dec10

OLD FILES.

OLD FILES can now be recut and made as good as new. We have by us abundant proof of this fact, that any one can testify to, and that, too, from Mechanics and Millmen who have tried them thoroughly. From a variety of experiments and improvements, we have found out a way, known that we can make Old Files cut as fast as new, that will do as much service as they ever did, if not more, and at about one-half the expense.

All Files and Rasps warranted.

GENUINE BALM OF COLUMBIA.

I have with a flat, luxuriant head of hair, free from dandruff or scurf, do not hesitate one moment to say that Balm of Columbia, in cases of baldness, is worth a dollar and four cents a bottle. Many years ago, when I was a boy of twenty years, I have had it recommended to me for the purpose of restoring the hair to its original, perfection by the use of the balm. Age, exposure, or condition appears to be no obstacle to its use. It never causes the hair to draw up, which the darkest hair takes to fade, by which means it is rendered half white and gray as the Arctic regions. I have had my hair restored to its natural color by this invaluable remedy. In all cases, of fever it will be found the most pleasant wash that can be used. Always call at the store where necessary to keep the genuine article out. It strengthens the roots, it nurses the hair, imparts a rich glossy appearance, and as an article for the toilet is unequaled. Hair restorers, at the present time are a fraud on the community. Hair restoratives are a fraud on the community. Never buy it unless you find the name of Comstock & Co. on the wrapper, for the wrapper is worth little, unless you find it with a countersign on it.
